Design that inspires, solutions that connect. Quality that lasts.

We have been designing iconic bathroom products made of glazed titanium steel since 1952 - precisely moulded, sustainably produced and made to last. Our high-quality baths, shower trays and washbasins are more than just objects - they are aesthetic statements that connect people with water and architecture.

With perfect craftsmanship and engineering skills, we create quality that lasts - durable, timeless and 100% recyclable.

We are Bette.

What drives us.

Design that convinces.

Timeless design and sophisticated technology transform bathroom worlds into inspiring living spaces. For people who place the highest value on beauty and functionality.

Simple solutions with a system.

With practical, well thought-out solutions and efficient implementation, we help customers and partners to realise their projects in a targeted and successful manner.

Quality without compromise.

We rely on high-quality materials, innovative technology and unrivalled craftsmanship. This results in outstanding bathroom objects and impressive product innovations.

Sustainability and transparency.

We rely on environmentally friendly materials, resource-saving processes and a transparent value chain. Our glazed titanium steel products are recyclable and 100% recyclable.

When planning is effortless, systems are well thought out, design and quality are tangible and installation runs smoothly, then we can say:
Stay relaxed, with Bette.

Vision and craftsmanship have always characterised great architecture. Steel embodies precision, stability and durability - characteristics that also characterise our bathroom products made of glazed titanium steel. The combination of technical sophistication and natural robustness creates a surface that is exceptionally malleable, resistant and durable.

The BetteGlaze® finish makes this material harder than marble, non-porous and scratch-resistant - for timeless beauty that lasts.

Our bathroom products have a first-class eco-balance. Because sustainability is important to us. And it has been for over 70 years: Bette decided in favour of the natural materials steel and glass back in 1952. The careful use of natural resources is very important to us.

Highest precision. Excellence in craftsmanship. Made in Germany.

Bette combines the highest precision and craftsmanship excellence. Our manufactory in Delbrück creates customised products that meet the highest quality standards thanks to traditional craftsmanship and state-of-the-art technology.

Craftsmanship meets high-tech.

Perfection made to measure.

At Bette, customised perfection is at the centre of our philosophy. With customised dimensions for bath, shower surfaces and shower trays, we create solutions that combine design, functionality and sustainability in perfect harmony.

Colour deviations due to printing are possible.

Life is full of colour. Why not the bathroom too? We have structured our world of colour into two categories: Key Colours and Bespoke Colours. This allows you to personalise your bathroom even more - from tone-on-tone to colourful mixes, from harmonious to striking.

More room for new ideas.

The bathroom is no longer just a room that fulfils a function. It is also a living space and is customised accordingly.

Product designer
Dominik Tesseraux

At Bette, the highest level of craftsmanship and innovative design merge to create iconic bathroom products that are both functional and aesthetically pleasing. In collaboration with renowned designers, we continuously explore the limits of steel moulding and create products that fit harmoniously into a wide variety of room concepts. Our diverse shapes and variants offer planners, architects and designers the freedom to realise individual bathroom architecture that inspires and excites.

Bathroom worlds that inspire.

Whether you're looking for a luxurious hotel bathroom, efficient bathroom solutions for the home, flexible options for renovations or the perfect feel-good space for a family home, you'll find customised products that combine design, functionality and sustainability. Let us inspire you.

Bonded silicone-free. For permanently clean transitions.

What counts in the bathroom are solutions that are convincing in the long term - technically, hygienically and in terms of design. The BetteUpstand ensures a durable, silicone-free seal and noticeably reduces maintenance work.

Bath and shower trays have a 35 mm high upstand made of glazed titanium steel, which can be easily tiled over and firmly connected to the wall. The seamless transition creates a flawless, hygienic connection - without any silicone joints.

This provides reliable protection against mould and water damage and makes the bathroom permanently easy to clean. In short: less maintenance, more relaxation.

The very personal touch.

At Bette, we understand that colours are more than just decoration - they are an expression of personality. Our variety of colours makes it possible to design bathrooms individually and with a personal touch - harmonious, inspiring and unique. Thanks to our expertise in the processing of glazed titanium steel, every colour is implemented with the utmost precision: with brilliant colour intensity, long-term colour fidelity and a flawless surface that retains its beauty even after years of use.

Perfection in form. Made for visionaries.

BetteAntiSlip Sense for all bath and shower trays in the colour white

BetteAnti-Slip Pro for all flat shower trays in the Key Colours

Safety and aesthetics belong together. They form the basis for a bathroom that will impress in the long term. With BetteAntiSlip Sense and BetteAntiSlip Pro, there are two anti-slip surfaces to choose from - for different functional and design requirements.

BetteAnti-Slip Sense remains invisible when dry and is ideal for white surfaces. BetteAnti-Slip Pro offers a fine texture and is available in 32 colours - for more freedom in planning.

Both solutions integrate discreetly into the overall appearance - for safety that is not noticeable but remains. For a good feeling. With every step.

Peace where design inspires.

A bathroom can stand out. It can show colour, contrast materials and think out loud. But what is eye-catching must not be distracting in every-day life. Especially where design is loud, we think quietly with technology.

With our bathroom products with increased sound insulation, we create space for peace and quiet - regardless of the building situation or requirements. We pay attention to every detail - from the shell to the final connection. Maximum precision and quality ensure that the bathroom is not only functional, but also offers space for complete relaxation.

Level	Designation	Description
SSt I	Basic requirement	Complies with DIN 4109 - minimum protection
SSt II	Increased sound insulation	Offers noticeably better living comfort, e.g. for condominiums or hotels
SSt III	Particularly high sound insulation	For upmarket living comfort, e.g. terraced houses, semi-detached houses, doctors' surgeries

Powerful elements that leave a lasting impression on rooms.

Minimal structure, maximum comfort.

Reduction does not mean sacrifice, but a conscious decision in favour of functionality, efficiency and precision. With an installation height of just 90 mm, the BetteUltra Space can be flexibly adapted to any building situation - ideal for refurbishments too.

The drain close to the wall on the narrow side enables threshold-free access from three sides and ensures reliable drainage. The shower tray is available in 20 sizes and many colours, offering maximum design freedom with minimum space requirements.

BetteSuno – Barber Osgerby

Good design unfolds its power when it meets perfect technology. With the BetteSuno series, Barber Osgerby show how sculptural clarity, precise geometry and functional details merge harmoniously. But at Bette, design does not end at the surface: we also rely on the highest precision and well thought-out solutions in technology and installation. This turns excellent design into an experience that is as functional as it is aesthetically pleasing - for bathroom architecture that inspires in the long term.

The collection has a beautiful handcrafted character and its sculptural qualities are emphasised by the circular and conical design.
